DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments, see Remarks, filed October 22, 2007, with respect to the rejection(s) of claim(s) 5-10 under 35USC 102 have been fully considered and are persuasive. Therefore, the rejection has been withdrawn. However, upon further consideration, a new ground(s) of rejection is made in view of newly found prior art references as set forth below.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

4. Claims 5-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Marchetto et al (US 5,914,959) in view of Kim (US 5,963,592).

Marchetto et al discloses a communication system and method, comprising a transmission apparatus (base station) for transmitting a signal at plural types of transmission rates (highest bit rate and lower bit rate, see Abstract), and a reception apparatus (mobile paging unit) for receiving the transmitted signal, wherein:

the transmission apparatus would comprise:

signal generation means for generating a signal (Information Symbols) to be transmitted into which pilot symbols (Periodic Pilot Symbol Block) which are predetermined patterns have been inserted (see Fig.1A), transmission means (see Fig.3) for transmitting the generated signal, and the reception apparatus comprises:

reception means for receiving the transmitted signal; and coherent detection means for carrying out coherent detection by using the pilot symbols included in the received signal. Though not described, a coherent detection means is required at a receiver side that uses the pilot symbols.

Marchetto et al teaches different transmission rates, the patent fails teach that a ratio of a number of the pilot symbols to a total number of symbols in a single slot of the signal becomes a value responsive to a transmission rate of the signal. Kim teaches that an appropriate (in other words, optimal) number of pilot symbols should be used for performing the exact channel estimation. Thus, it would have been obvious to one skilled in the art at the time the invention was made to select an appropriate number of pilot symbols for each of the transmission rates in the communication system of Marchetto et al, whereby the ratio of the number of the pilot symbols to the total number of symbols in a single slot of the signal becomes a value responsive to a transmission rate of the signal
